THE GOVERNOR BETTER.

At Last Accounts Walking About the Corridor.

It is now pretty well settled that the first accounts of the Governor's illness were exaggerated. The following are the dispatches received yesterday:

The News: Governor Jones' condition remains unchanged. His brother-in-law, Thomas Wenburn, and his wife and children are constantly with him. It is not believed that he can live.

The Call. At 1:30 Mr. Bradley received the follow dispatch from the Governor himself:

G. R. Bradley: My appetite and strength is improving. Since this morning all pain is disappearing.

JOHN E. JONES.

The following was received by Attorney General Beatty:

General Beatty: Governor stronger this morning. Slept well last night and is now walking about the hotel corridor.

W. T. HANFORD.

State School Moneys.

Editor Journal:—Some comment is caused by the apportionment of school moneys and the Gazette attempts, while lauding Mr. Norcross, to ensure me. Now, as to facts. Mr. Norcross wrote me that he believed the school census of Storey county was stuffed. I ascertained from my legal adviser, Attorney-General Beatty, that I had no authority to act in the matter. The Attorney-General and myself wrote a joint letter to Mr. Langdon, County Superintendent of Storey county, relative to the accusation of Mr. Norcross. He replied that the census was correct and explained the seeming irregularities which Mr. Norcross had pointed out.

We sent Mr. Langdon's letter to Mr. Norcross and informed the gentleman that I had no authority to act, asked him how I could proceed legally, and suggested that he enjoin me from making the apportionment. I received no reply from Mr. Norcross, and as I had no authority to order a new census in Storey county, I proceeded to make apportionment as the law directs.

I would suggest that, as the orders for the money will not be drawn until Saturday there is yet time to act.

Respectfully,

H. C. Cutting,

State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Reno, January 9, 1895.

Arrested For Insanity.

Yesterday Joseph Langevin was kicking up a general row in front of the County building and finally became so obstreperous that Sheriff Kinney arrested him on the charge of insanity. He was placed in the jail and will be examined by the Lunacy Commission at 10 o'clock this morning.

A week ago a man who had lost a valuable watch chain advertised the fact in the APPEAL. It was brought to this office yesterday.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup, has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, always all pain, cures wind colic, and the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

THE OPERA HOUSE ADVERTISING.

It is Rudely Torn From the Appeal

Yesterday the APPEAL was notified that the Opera House, run by Messrs Coffin and Richards, would no longer advertise in its columns.

The boodle ring of this section have found out that much of their present mortification and misconception is due to the unmuzzled attitude of the APPEAL, and they have struck back with as much force as they have been able to muster.

The advertising patronage of the Opera House Company amounts to an average of nearly $5 a month during the year. Possibly this paper may struggle along another year without its assistance. We trust that before the year is up that our two contemporaries will take the Opera House muzzle off their throats and treat public questions without any reference to local patronage.

The boodle ring announced a few months ago that business men who patronized the APPEAL need not expect patronage from them. As the business men now advertising in the APPEAL are doing most of the business, the efforts to close the mouth of the APPEAL has not met with any large amount of success.

The fact of the matter is the boodle ring of Ormsby county whose chief executive officer is Tremor Coffin is a busted corporation in this county and such a thing of absolute shreds and patches that the blanket hasn't enough left of it to hang on a brush fence, without falling off.

Men who a few years ago trembled at the mere mention of the power that ruled the county now laugh at it just as a child laughs when it sees a pumpkin stuck up by the roadside with a face carved in the rind and a candle in the inside. When the candle goes out somebody kicks it over and that's the end of it. This is a case where the candle has gone out.

Townsendisms.

The following items are taken from Jim Townsend's Bodie Mining Index: It is a thousand times better to be lied about than to be lying about others.

But few men can handle a hot lamp chimney and say there is no place like home at the same time.

The man who never changes his views generally runs with the man that never changes his shirt.

If a full grown man had a voice in proportion to our neighbor's baby's, he could stand on Bodie Bluff and talk to the world.

A man who has plenty of money and won't turn it loose and enjoy it, is like a jackass that packs bullion and feeds on sagebrush.

When a fellow tells you you are too smart to be fooled, get your eye on a pick-handle, for he is about to spring some scheme on you.

Old Lige says that some of the worst habits are found in the best society, and wonders how they get there.

Getting married is becoming epidemic. When a man begins to feel the matrimonial impulse he had better summons a doctor and have his tongue properly inspected.

Don't fancy that talents counts for so very much in this world. Persistence without brains is better than brains without persistence. The industrious garbage man makes more money than the lazy poet.

Wire Tapping Scandal.

There is another wire tapping scandal in San Francisco. The officials of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club charge that the Western Union wire from Ingleside, which is leased by the club has been systematically tapped and the results of the races given to all the pool rooms in town at the conclusion of each race. Discharged operators are suspected of tapping the wires and of maintaining an organized "peanut telegraph service." In its flight against the down-town pool rooms the racing management has closed the telegraph office at the track and now no offices on the Coast will be able to get the racing results from the track.

M. D. Howell, the Stockton counterfeiter, has escaped justice. He had $300,000 to fight with and hired perjurers to acquit him. Now the Government is after the perjurers and they will find that while they had Howell's money behind them to commit perjury, they will not have any financial assistance from him in their own trials. Howell will be enjoying his liberty and laughing at his dupes who will go to the penitentiary.

The Examiner is waging a hot fight against the R. R. Funding bill now before Congress. The opposition in California is very strong.

THE ORPHANS HOME.

What a Member of the Board of Directors Says of It.

State Treasurer Westerfield, who is a member of the Board of Directors of the State Orphans' Home, was interviewed by a Journal reporter relative to the recent reports circulated about the Home.

"Mr. Westerfield," asked the reporter, "what foundation, if any, is there for the report that the orphans at the Home are ill-fed and ill-treated?"

Mr. Westerfield—"None whatever. The Board made a thorough investigation of those charges and a representative of the newspaper which made the charges was present by invitation during the investigation. As my name was used in connection with the charges in the newspaper, I asked the reporter where and when he had heard me make the statements attributed to me in the paper. He admitted that he had not heard me say a word against the management of the Home."

Reporter—"What if any, truth is there in the report that the children are ill-fed at the Home?"

Mr. Westerfield—"The children are as well fed, as comfortably clothed and as properly cared for as those of the average well-to-do families of the State. They get good, wholesome food and plenty of it. Though they are not clad in silk and fine raiment, their clothing is comfortable. They have good beds are bathed twice a week, have a good school and are well treated in every way as the children of parents in average circumstances. No Tewksbury almshouse business would be tolerated in Nevada, and no attempt has been made to introduce such customs at the Home. You can say that the children are well provided for, and reports to the contrary are not true."

Legal technicalities are great things. The word of a person who has been convicted of a felony is not received in Court. In the Davidson-Brown case in San Francisco the prosecution dug up Mrs. Davidson's record. She had been arrested in Massachusetts for swindling and served her term in jail. This revelation would seem to dispose of Mrs. Davidson, but her lawyer was equal to the emergency. He showed that the sort of swindling that Mrs. Davidson was imprisoned for was not a felony in Massachusetts. This being the case Mrs. Davidson's word is all right and she becomes a competent witness. The law is a great thing in some States.

If Congress was not run by the agents of the gold syndicate it would defeat Mr. Reed's pet scheme and pass an act prohibiting the Government from issuing any more bonds. It is claimed that the Dingley Tariff bill will provide sufficient revenue for the support of the Government, and if it does why issue more bonds? Is Congress simply an assemblage of the agents of the gold syndicate?

CHEAP CUSTOM WORK A DECEPTION.

A style of tailoring is rapidly gaining headway which is but an imposition upon the consumer and a detriment to the workman. The cheap custom work or what is called "special order work," is a shrewd dodge for the purpose of deceiving the customer into the belief that he is obtaining custom work at ready made prices. The real worth of custom work lies in the exactness of the fit, and the thoroughness in which it is made. Cheap custom work is therefore inferior to ready made work.

Large concerns, some also engaged in ready made work have grown up of late and depend for patronage upon retail stores, and have numerous agents scattered everywhere soliciting orders and gain trade because of the strikingly cheap prices offered for goods made to order. As a rule these agents seldom obtain an order twice from the same person.

It is about time that this scheme was exposed to the people and ABE COHN of the EMPORIUM shows up the fraud. If you want clothes that fit and are tried on as often as is necessary call at the EMPORIUM Court House Building, Carson City, Nevada.
